WEEK 13

THEME: ANIMALS

Date: 08.07.2020

MATHS

Today let's look at adding two groups together. Remember to do this there are a few methods you can use: you could count the two groups together and see what the total is or if you know how many is in one group you can lock that number in your head and count on using objects, a number line or your fingers.

Have a look at this Robot Addition game on the topmarks website:

<https://www.topmarks.co.uk/addition/robot-addition>

Begin with numbers to 10 and if you find this easy then move onto 15 and then 20. To work out the answers there is a number line to help you, simply lock the bigger number in your head and count on the other number using the number line. Or if this is a bit too tricky then find some objects you can use to count. Count out both the amounts in the number sentences and then count them altogether to find the answers.

LITERACY, COMMUNICATION AND LANGUAGE

Reading: Just a reminder to make sure you are reading regularly with an adult, if you register and log into Oxford Owl there are ebooks that you can use on there. Here's the link: Oxford Owl EBooks

How many sounds?

Have a look at the words in the table below, copy those words out onto a sheet of paper and then I want you to see if you can count how many sounds are in each of them (grown ups, answers are at the bottom of the page). I want you to circle or put a dot under each sound and then write the number of the sounds at the end, for example: sock = s o ck – 3 sounds.

THEMED LEARNING

Take a look at the animal skin prints before, can you identify what animal each skin belongs to?

INDEPENDENCE SKILL

For this week's independence skill I want you to learn the number you would have to ring if there was ever an emergency. It could be that someone has hurt themselves and you are the only one around, what number would you need to call? Do some research into the emergency number 999 and find out what services are available when you call that number. Remember, you must only call the number for real if there is an emergency, you should never call it unless you absolutely need to, why do you think this is so important?
